Wind World: Maximizing System Performance and User Productivity with SAP® Education

With the global demand for emission-free energy on the rise, Wind World has helped establish India as world leader in wind power technology. For business operations that are as efficient as the energy it produces, Wind World runs the SAP® ERP application. And, to help its 450 SAP software users maximize application performance, it relies on the SAP Education organization to provide convenient training and support. The result is greater productivity and a more powerful Wind World.

Training puts the wind in employee performance

Wind World drives knowledge and success with SAP® Education

Objectives

- Reduce content development costs, training cycles, and time to value
- Offer learning options that show users how tools work and allow them to try and test themselves
