Questions

1. Quality Chemicals provides two grades of ammonia for sale. Although there is a price difference, the company wants to provide customers with the higher grade chemical whenever the lower grade chemical is out of stock. This way they ensure the best customer service. What is the best way to set this up in SAP Business One so that the sales staff can easily find the higher grade item when the lower grade chemical is out of stock?

Please choose the correct answer.

a)	☐	Set up a discount group to link the two chemical items.
b)	☐	Create a sales bill of materials to link the two items as alternate components.
c)	☐	Assign both items to the same item group so they can be found in the same search.
d)	☐	Make the high grade chemical an alternative item to the low grade chemical.

2. You have created an item that is managed by batches with a management method of release only. Which of the following documents will require that batches are specified?
